interest in one or more of the factors that the Missouri Land Reclamation Commission may consider in issuing a permit. As required by The Land Reclamation Act, sections 444.760 to 444.790, RSMo, any person whose health safety or livelihood will be unduly impaired by the issuance of a permit, in relation to such items as permitting and reclamation requirements, erosion and siltation control, excavations posing a threat to public safety, or protection of public road rights-of-way may request a hearing, public meeting or submit written comments. If a hearing is requested, the Commission shall also consider if the applicant or any associated persons or corporations in Missouri has demonstrated that during five (5) years immediately preceding the date of the permit application that a pattern of noncompliance with any environmental protection laws and regulations administered by the Missouri Department of Natural Resources at other locations in Missouri suggests, based upon competent and substantial scientific evidence on the record that a reasonable likelihood of future noncompliances may occur. Such noncompliances must have been at any one single facility and resulted in harm to the environments or impaired the health, safety or livelihood of persons outside of the facility. For any permit seeker that has not been in business in Missouri for the past five (5) years, the Commission may review the record of noncompliance from any state where the applicant has conducted business during the past five (5) years.
